

NORTH COAST SCHOOL OF EDUCATION REQUEST TO DELAY PROGRAM

The North Coast School of Education (NCSOE) offers Candidates the option of delaying the start of their program under extenuating circumstances with the approval of the site administrator and program leadership.

Designated Subjects Program (NCDSP), tier-one Candidates are introduced to program-specific and industry standards, and the Teacher Performance Expectations (TPE) through a variety of required coursework. NCSOE prepares Candidates to successfully teach all students in public education and/or adults in how to perform in a competitive workplace through theory and practice that is connected to the knowledge base of teacher education. In tier-two, Candidates grow and improve in their ability to reflect upon and apply the California Standards for the Teaching Profession (CSTP) and the specific pedagogical skills for instruction.

Teacher Induction Program (NCTIP), Candidates grow and improve in their ability to reflect upon and apply the California Standards for the Teaching Profession and the specific pedagogical skills for subject matter instruction beyond what was demonstrated for the preliminary credential.

Under both programs, Candidates complete job-embedded formative assessment Inquiries with their Mentor Teachers and collect evidence of competency to demonstrate completion of the Program. They utilize the program-specific and industry standards, California State Content Standards, Common Core State Standards, and curriculum frameworks in the context of their teaching assignment. Candidates protect and support all students by designing and implementing equitable and inclusive learning environments. They maximize academic achievement for students from all ethnic, race, socio-economic, cultural, academic, and linguistic or family background; gender, gender identity, and sexual orientation; students with disabilities and advanced learners; English learners; and students with a combination of special instructional needs.

Candidates who complete the two-year program and meet all of the requirements are eligible for professional certification and a Clear Credential from the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing.
