

Program Overview

With the support of a trained Mentor and self-directed, inquiry-focused professional learning, Candidates reflect on and refine their teaching practice through a California Standards for the Teaching Profession (CSTP) lens while they develop strategies and innovative pedagogy for today's classroom environment.

Supporting Candidates

- Weekly meetings with Mentor for “just-in-time” coaching and long-term analysis of teaching practice
- Access to personalized, professional learning opportunities, support and resources
- Formative Feedback on action research
- Trained teacher observations, classroom visits and reflection
- Professional ePortfolio
- Opportunities for college credit for Induction work
- Recommendation for the Clear Credential upon meeting program and any additional credential requirements

Supporting Mentors

- Leadership opportunities to share and model experience and contribute to the larger educational community
- Personalized, research-based coaching and mentoring training based on a unit framework to develop and refine coaching knowledge and skills for individualized mentoring
- Access to on-demand, blended, personalized, professional learning opportunities, materials and resources
- Opportunities for college credit

Supporting Districts

- Free professional learning classes (district-aligned and job-embedded)
- Flexible and convenient professional learning delivery models (online, face-to-face, virtual)
- Support teacher retention and leadership through participation in State-accredited, research-based program
- Site collaboration and support with trained and paid Mentors, coordinator, trainers and program staff
- Access and support to CTC policies and district requirements
- District leadership networking, program feedback and professional learning

Building and Supporting Relationships, Equity and Student Success through Personalized Professional Learning

- Customized classes to Candidate and Mentor needs, offering online, face-to-face, and virtual options.
- Variety of course topics ranging from CSTP-based, social emotional learning, and technology techniques to specific mentoring skills and standards-based training.
- Acquire tools and skills that enhance and deepen the participant's understanding with “take aways” that can be immediately applied directly to the classroom or mentoring setting.

Program Enrollment

Visit www.NCSOE.org or call (707) 524-2818 to learn how you can participate.